

ACL5

AUTOMATED CIVIL LITIGATION

Efficient, error-free legal document assembly

Producing legal documents can be time-consuming and prone to error. What if you had a system that captured file details and automatically created your forms and letters? ACL does just that, enabling you and your staff to prepare documents quickly, efficiently, and accurately.

ACL Features:

- Over 3,500 court forms and letters that are always up to date
- Court-approved in Ontario, BC, Alberta, and Saskatchewan
- Accurate, compliant pre- and post-judgment interest calculator
- Add your own precedents, claims, and letters
- Integrated with xchangedocs for secure document sharing
- Includes Task Manager, a legal tickler system

Boost your document efficiency

ACL is fast. Enter parties and basic file information once, instantly generating any court form or letter from ACL's complete document library that includes the most up-to-date court forms.

Reduce the risk of error

ACL reduces or eliminates errors from copying and pasting data or content. It automatically corrects verb tenses, plurality and party names/pronouns. And with Task Manager, you'll never miss a limitation date or critical deadline.

Consistent language and styling

Your documents should reflect your firm's professionalism. ACL produces complete, correct and consistently formatted documents, standardized across your firm.

Simple implementation

ACL implementation is free, including training and support. It integrates seamlessly with most legal accounting and practice management systems, so data is only entered once across your applications.

Cost effective

ACL is proven to increase productivity. There are no upfront costs, and usage-based pricing gives you complete control over your expenses.

Secure document sharing

ACL includes xchangedocs for secure document serving and sharing. No need to re-key contact information – documents can be served directly from ACL with no Affidavit of Service required.