FAMILY LAW FORMS AND DOCUMENTS (FOR BC AND ALBERTA)

Forms simplified with relevant outputs

Family law matters can be complex. The Automated Civil Litigation (ACL) Family Law Module automatically creates all the formatted documents and court forms you need.

ACL Family Law Includes

- Comprehensive court forms library with real-time updates
- Cohabitation, separation and family property agreements
- Simple on-screen dialogs capture essential case details.
- Apply all file-specific data to commonly used court forms, letters and agreements
- Intuitive “financial workspace” with what-if calculations for multiple property division scenarios

Zero search time

Firms would rather service their clients than waste time searching for court forms. The ACL Family Law Module includes the most common family law forms and documents for Alberta and British Columbia. Add your own content and precedents for a central repository of your gold standard documents.

Easy form completion

Filling out complex forms can be tedious work. ACL Family Law eliminates re-keying. Enter party-specific data once to automatically complete all family law court forms, letters, and agreements.

No calculating

Dividing household assets is a calculation-intensive exercise. The ACL Family Law Module features a built-in financial workspace, maintaining income and expense details, valuations and apportionments of all spousal assets, and liabilities. This greatly simplifies the completion of financial forms, including BC’s Form F8 and Alberta’s Budget of Expenses.

Zero implementation and training cost

Deploying the ACL Family Law Module is easy and includes free implementation, training and support. Usage-based pricing allows firms to disburse the cost.

Never miss a deadline

Missing a deadline can be costly for all parties involved. ACL includes a Task Manager that provides a full view of critical dates by matter, with due and overdue tasks. With to-do lists available at a glance, along with email reminder notifications, you’ll never miss a critical date.
